

Understanding Colour Theory & Practice

with Deborah Marks

2 Day Workshop

2 & 3 August 2025

Workshop time: 9:30am – 4:30pm

$240 BDAS members    $290 non-members

This is a practical course which enables you to explore in greater depth an extended range of colour relationships through mixing and arranging colour. Through guided exercises you will experiment further with the range of colour harmonies and contrasts to discover more complex and sophisticated colour schemes. We will research widely the aspects of hue, value, intensity and temperature in order to develop greater understanding of the interrelatedness of colour.

This course gives you the opportunity to expand your knowledge of colour. In doing so you will gain greater capacity to recognise and choose colour schemes as well as develop confidence to create vibrant colour relationships.

Planned Learning Outcomes

Students will have:

- Explored in greater depth an extended range of colour relationships.
- Be able to recognise and become increasingly familiar with colour contrasts and harmonies.
- Further understand visual reactions to the various colour schemes.
- Worked with principles and structures of design.
- Design a complex composition based on these principles.
